February 2008 – Points Based System English Test - Tier 1 Workers

This press release has information on:

- UK Border Agency approves the Academy of Oriental Cuisine's Points Based System English Test Tier 1

UK Border Agency approves the Academy of Oriental Cuisine's Points Based System English Test Tier 1

The Points based system is a new system based on the immigration model in Australia. Applicants applying to come to the UK for work now need to gain points to apply. Tier 1 replaces HMSP. Applicants now will have to provide evidence that they have an acceptable standard of English i.e. that they have passed an English language test which is recognised by the Home Office.

The Academy of Oriental Cuisine's Points Based System English Test - Tier 1 has been approved by the UK Border Agency as being appropriate evidence of language competence for Tier 1 workers i.e. highly skilled migrants.
